

Training workshop for career coordinators for the implementation of internationalizing actions. January 23, 2019, UCLV

On January 23, the first of the planned workshops on coordinator training took place. These workshops are especially directed to the coordinators of the 12 careers that have been finally designated to begin the process of internationalization of their curriculum.

As part of the strategy to be followed, the idea of holding international conferences with foreign speakers is reinforced, as well as the presence in the core faculty of teachers from other countries because they can bring internationalization to it.
