

FORTALECIMIENTO DE LA INTERNACIONALIZACIÓN LAS UNIVERSIDADES EUROPEAS Y LATIIONAMERICANAS

Bimonthly Internal Report- April '19

During the months of March and April 2019, the universities participating in the FORINT project have continued carrying out dissemination activities of the Project. Some examples may be the specific workshops on internationalization, held by the Universidad de Holguin during the month of April, the internationalization seminars by the Universidad the Oriente where not only students and teachers were involved but also deputy directors of the Municipal University Centres that attend the Internationalization or with different Dissemination Conferences of the Forint Project to all the faculties of the central campus by the Universidad de Panama. Internationalization is disseminated in this way among the communities, the number of participants being high (total participants in the J. Disclosure of Panama: 250; total participants internationalization activities: 120 ...)

The results of the Workshops and Conferences are always positive, since the explanations given are complete. The interesting thing about these activities is when the real needs of universities arise according to the listeners. To try to answer these questions, "ad hoc" activities are carried out for the good work of the university conglomerate and to carry out internationalization based on the principles of the strategic plans of each of the centres.

It should also be noted that external elements to the FORINT program, such as the visit of the delegates of the British Council to different Cuban universities participating in the project, can help the internationalization strategies of these centres, i.e. increasing the English level of the graduates with what can help increase international mobility. At this point, highlight the Scientific Day with foreign students that the Universidad de Holguín completed during the month of March, and where 28 students were able to share their experiences.

The execution of all activities has been completed without problems and has only been interrupted by the Easter holiday period.
